WEINBERG COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES DEGREE REQUIREMENTS 2023-2024

New requirements for the BA were introduced in 2023. More details on the requirements and rules presented here can be found on the Weinberg College website, www.weinberg.northwestern.edu/undergraduate, and in the 2023-24 edition of Northwestern University's Undergraduate Catalog.

1. COLLEGE SEMINAR

If you enter Weinberg College as a first-year student, you must complete a College Seminar in fall quarter of your first year. This course starts you on the path to fulfilling the learning goals for the BA degree.

2. WRITTEN AND ORAL EXPRESSION

Proficiency in written and oral expression is attained through completion of a First-Year Writing Seminar in winter or spring quarter of your first year, followed later by an approved Advanced Expression course which may be part of your major or may additionally satisfy some other degree requirement.

3. LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY

You must demonstrate proficiency equivalent to two years of college-level instruction in a language other than English through testing or through Northwestern coursework. For coursework, you must earn at least a C- in the final course. Details on the different options available for completing this requirement can be found at weinberg.northwestern.edu/undergraduate/degree/post-spring-2023-degree/language-proficiency/index.html.

4. FOUNDATIONAL DISCIPLINES

As part of your liberal arts and sciences education, you will take courses in a wide range of academic disciplines. You must take two approved courses in each of these areas:

NS	Natural Sciences	HS	Historical Studies
EDR	Empirical and Deductive Reasoning	EET	Ethical and Evaluative Thinking
SBS	Social and Behavioral Sciences	LA	Literature and Arts

You may count a Foundational Disciplines course toward another Weinberg College requirement (such as your major and/or a Perspectives requirement) at the same time. However, if a course is approved for more than one foundational area you must choose in which one foundational area to count it. A maximum of two AP or IB credits may be counted toward these requirements; credits must be in two different foundational areas. Not all AP and IB subject areas are eligible; see the Weinberg College website for details.

You may not satisfy Foundational Disciplines requirements with courses from other universities. If you are a transfer student or take courses through an affiliated study abroad program, special exceptions may apply.

5. PERSPECTIVES ON POWER, JUSTICE, AND EQUITY

This two-part transdisciplinary requirement (one course focused on the United States, the second course Global) is designed to infuse the Weinberg College curriculum with active discussions about how to navigate the local-global continuum amidst the complex and highly dynamic social and political movements of today and in the past. Through taking these courses, students reflect on their own perspectives as the product of interconnected webs of people, ideas, and events. You may count a Perspectives course toward another Weinberg College degree requirement (such as a Foundational Discipline and/or your major) at the same time, but the US and Global requirements are separate (even if a US course has some Global content and vice versa).

6. MAJOR

You must explore at least one academic discipline in depth by completing a Weinberg College major, including any required prerequisites. You must declare your major by the beginning of your junior year. All courses for the major must be completed with grades of C- or better.

7. NUMBER OF COURSES AND QUARTERS

Most courses are worth one unit of Northwestern credit and to receive a BA from Weinberg College, you must earn at least 45 units of credit. At least 34 of the 45 units must come from course credits in Weinberg College subject areas. You must be a student in Weinberg College for your last three quarters. All Weinberg College students are also subject to Northwestern University's Undergraduate Registration Requirement (URR); see the Registrar's website for details.
