Why Northwestern?

I chose Northwestern because I wanted to pursue my education at the highest level in a major metropolitan area. The chance to see and experience new and exciting things in college was a huge factor in my college decision. The more I researched Northwestern, the more opportunity I saw.

Why did you become a counselor?

The move from high school to college was a hard adjustment for me to make. Without the support of my counselor, the transition would've been infinitely more difficult. My goal as a bridge counselor is to pay it back and give new FGLI students coming to Northwestern the same support that I got during my first month in Evanston.
